

Personal review Loris Jemmi

This project was very difficult. But the good group's cohesion made that this project took place in good condition.

We had a lot of problem, but we managed with mutual aid within the group that I particularly liked.

I had a lot of problem during this project but the more we progressed together, the more the program improved and gradually the project took shape to end finally in a complete and good-looking program.

Very beautiful experience of group.
